WEEKLY WEDNESDAY UPDATE

We live and work in harmony with love for one another, so we can achieve our potential within a community of life-long learners

25th January 2023

Dear Members of the Great and Little Shelford Community,

I hope this week's newsletter finds you and your family well. This Tuesday, we were pleased to welcome Adrian Hall for a workshop.

Thanks to the kind generosity of the PTA, on a very cold and frosty morning, Year 3 met Adrian Hall - an explorer and expedition leader who has climbed mountains in many remote areas around the world. They started off in the playground learning about the 4 points of a compass and how to measure a distance of 10 metres using just our strides.

They then worked in pairs on an orienteering activity, finding the locations of some mini-flags hidden around the playground and field.

Back in the classroom, Adrian showed some of the equipment he finds essential to climb a mountain including duct tape to mend tears, crampons with fierce spikes and food that won't perish or be squashed. It was a fascinating talk and has set the class up beautifully to write our mountain adventure stories.

SEND Coffee Mornings

Thank you to all of the parents who attended the SEND coffee morning on Friday 13th January. It was lovely to begin to meet the community and to get some steer from you all as to how I can be most supportive.

As a group, we decided that we would meet every half term; not only for me to support you, but to facilitate the SEND parent community meeting and supporting each other to navigate what can be a complex route through education for children with special educational needs.

The coffee mornings will continue to be informal, and I hope to meet many more of you in the weeks to come. Next week, I will publish dates that will take us up to the end of the year. If you do have any SEND queries feel free to contact me on:

cpickardeshelford.cambs.sch.uk my usual working days are Thursday and Friday.

Encouraging Good Routines and Behaviour

After school holidays it often takes a while to get back on track with routines and behaviours. Here are some tips and ideas to help -

- Focus on routines. Children thrive on routines and it helps them to become organised and responsible for their time and actions.
- 2. Family rules are important for everyone to know what the expectation is. Agree the rules together so the children are part of the rule making and are not just being told what they are. By having a few rules and using them as boundaries for what is acceptable, they can be referred to, if you are seeing challenging behaviours.
- Encourage children to be problem solvers. It is great for children to be able to resolve things themselves eg; sibling rivalry – allow them to work it out between themselves and only intervene if the disagreement escalates.
- 4. Do not ignore misbehaviour. Along with the family rules it is important to think about rewards and consequences before any incidents. Consequences need to be timely and relevant.
- Spend some one-to-one time with your child each day. It's always important to show an interest in what they are doing both at home and school.
